

GAIN A FIRST-PERSON PERSPECTIVE

VB400 BODY-WORN CAMERA AND AVIGILON UNITY VIDEO

When incidents arise, you need total visibility from the second action begins. Limited perspectives in video footage can slow incident response and complicate investigations. When things become challenging, unbiased information can make a crucial difference in investigators' ability to respond effectively and close cases.

HOW IT WORKS

On their own, the VB400 body-worn camera and Avigilon Unity Video system revolutionize evidence capture – but combined, their capabilities do so much more. The activation of a VB400 camera triggers a motion start event in Avigilon Unity Video software, displaying both fixed and mobile video feeds simultaneously. Other nearby VB400s can also be configured to begin recording when one is activated in the area, enabling total situational awareness. Footage is encrypted from start to finish and easily tagged to incidents and cases in one file, simplifying review and playback later.

KEY BENEFITS

RESPOND WITH CONTEXT

By combining fixed and mobile video, you can see multiple perspectives of an unfolding situation simultaneously – ensuring a smarter and more efficient incident response – no matter how unexpected.

DETER AGGRESSION

Visible fixed video, along with personnel wearing a VB400, can alter behavior before an incident escalates.

CENTRALIZE INSIGHTS ACROSS ONE PLATFORM

Don't risk missing crucial information when toggling between different systems. Watch body-worn and fixed video feeds simultaneously, side-by-side, in Avigilon Unity Video.
